

HOLLOW PROFILE > PC hollow profile

For advertising, divider panel for applications that are not subject to loads, roofing. The sheets can easily be bend even if it is cold. Ideal to be used for roofing for 2 reasons: strong resistance when it hails, and excellent thermal insulating properties.

The side of the plate with UV protection, applied during extrusion process, should be install outside on top.

Recent successes in this field has allowed to BG PLAST to create plants with higher production capacity while maintaining the quality of the sheet within the limits imposed by the market!

